

Centipede EOL notice

Dear Centipede customers,

This is an EOL notification document for the Centipede SoM. The product indicated in this notice is approaching its End Of Life, which means the following:

- After the EOL date, orders for the indicated product will no longer be accepted;
- After the EOL date, no more 8devices software or firmware updates will be issued for the indicated product. OpenWrt or other third-party upstream support may or may not continue and is not directly dependent on this EOL notice.

Any orders filled for the indicated product up to and on this date will be fulfilled. Final software and firmware builds released up to and on this date will remain available.

EOL date	October 6th, 2025
Products affected	Centipede
Reason for EOL notification	Critical component is being discontinued (Qualcomm AR9331)
Contact information	info@8devices.com

Unfortunately, we do not have any pin-to-pin-compatible replacement products available for the Centipede module and we have no plans to develop any in the future.

Your loyal client and partner,

8devices